CNR museum train coming here in July

The Canadian National Railways museum train will be on exhibit here in Humboldt July 20 and 21 as a part of the western tour in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The train is made up from equipment built in the last century. Three locomotives, one built in 1872, three cars, converted into museum halls for the display of material on Canadian railway history, a 1950 passenger coach; a dining car of the 1880s; and an ornate sleeping car built about 1905.

The Grand Trunk Railway played an important part in Canada's early railway history and introduced the first mail cars, first parlor cars and one of its subsidiaries built the first sleeping car, well ahead of Pullman. Railroading was born in Canada in 1836.

Locomotive No. 60 heads the museum train, and behind No. 60 is No. 247—a Wallace "mudslide" engine which was recovered from abandonment in a sand-pit.

It is the only railway museum on wheels and on its first visit to the West it opened in Winnipeg the first of the week where it is drawing huge crowds of interested citizens.

The following is the schedule for the train's Saskatchewan show-bus: Saskatoon, July 4; Winnipeg, July 5 and 7; Regina, July 9 to 11; Moose Jaw, July 13 to 14; Yorkton, July 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21; Melville, July 22; Prince Albert, July 23; Humboldt, Aug. 1 to 3; Biggar, Aug. 6; and North Battleford, Aug. 8.—The Journal, Humboldt, Sask. New beach resort on Dauphin Lake open this spring

Ally, but right at 34 beach lots at New resort opened up this spring by R. H. Houty, Carleton Place, Ont. The first thing they did was have the land divided into 34 beach lots. In all, 18 cabins are in varying stages of construction and in the past month or so, a lot of wood has been saved, all hammers and shovels included.

Misses Chubb and Neil purchased the property, once known as Sunbath Beach, from Louisa Brown, Ottawa River. The first thing they did was have the land divided into 34 beach lots. The road into the beach, just 100 yards past Otter Beach has been applied for improvement under the province's beach improvement plan.

Unmanned for years, there is a 3,000-foot beach frontage of which 1,500 feet is taken up by the 34 lots. The hydro has been brought to the beach and all necessary building construction is under way. The beach and all surrounding buildings are under construction. Under the plan, the beach and all surrounding buildings are under construction. High School Students Enjoy Trip to Bismarck

(By Betty Robertson)

Forty-three Roston High School students and four chaperones left Roston at 8 o'clock Friday, May 24th, bound for Bismarck. After a rather rough ride on highway 85 we arrived at the American border, where the American customs officer sent us on our way with his good wishes. We arrived in Bismarck, N.D., for lunch. Here we managed to get our money changed at 3% premium. At 2:30 we arrived at Bismarck and went directly to the Pullman Hotel. This hotel is the "Pride of North Dakota," being the largest in five western states with 210 rooms.

Stoney Lake site interests church

Interest in obtaining property at Stoney Lake by the Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints was reported at Monday night's meeting of the Town Council.

It was learned that enquiries had been received by the Mayor and Town Clerk regarding the possibility of acquiring property sufficient on which to erect 20 cottages. The location apparently is near the property which fronts on the main beach and which is owned by the old pump house building. It was stated in a letter received by Mayor Lamb that the property would be fully developed and landscaped.—The Journal, Humboldt, Sask.—May 16, 1957.

The true measure of a people lies not alone in its material wealth and in the might of its arm, but in that product of liberty and learning without which no nation can achieve greatness.

Canada is changing from a primarily agricultural country to an industrial nation and has in recent years transferred much of its wealth and industry to its wealth in minerals, water power and magnetic forces.

Crowd acclaim Elks first annual Spring Queen Festival a success

That there will be no slouching program in the city of Bismarck "for three or four years" was predicted by Alderman K. B. Poiry Friday night at the regular meeting of the city council.

Speaking during the discussion of the report of the Finance Board, Alderman Poiry said that the city had some things to be done by the city in street improvements, in order to get the city out of the "we can see no light of horrible examples of what happens when we leave it to the individual to install his own curbs and sidewalks when and where and how he pleases," he added.

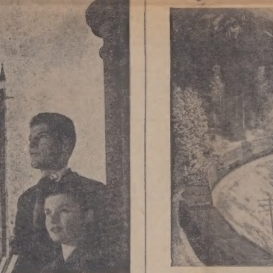

He said he wanted to get a program set up so that it could be maintained in the estimate for tax levies this year.

Mayor Nicholson commented that the city was not going to have a program set up so that it could be maintained in the estimate for tax levies this year.

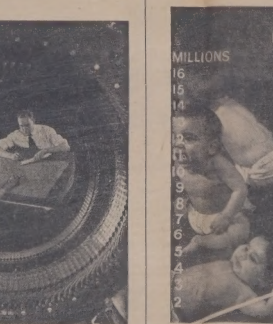

Alderman Chaskey, in a verbal report for his committee, suggested that some thought should be given by the council to setting up a definite program for construction of curbs and sidewalks and paving streets.

Alderman Poiry added further comment that he was "not in favor of programming anything in the nature of paving until proper street levels are established and the grades constructed to those levels."

Alderman Frank Marwood joined in the discussion with the comment "this year is now half gone and nothing has been done so let's advertise our intentions now for both this year and next year."

July 1, 1867 - July 1, 1957 Canada Celebrates 90th Birthday

In Canada, a young people has since 1867 been steadily working to win toward a national consciousness. The really vital task since Confederation has been the creation of a great nation from the diverse elements which difficult partnership brought together into a central parliament. From a bold dream, the Fathers of Confederation fashioned a practical plan which down through the years has welded 10 far-flung provinces into a powerful nation.

Canada is a vast country, bounded by 3 mighty oceans. Its rich lands are traversed by majestic mountain ranges, watered by powerful rivers and millions of lakes. Six provinces have joined the nucleus of the original union.

Mutual aid projects, such as the Canada Dam at Manzanito, India, testify to Canada's growth in the realm of international responsibility.

A recent count reveals a population five times the figure for 1867. This has resulted not only from the birth of new babies but through the influx of eager new citizens when older countries have, down through the decades, sent for the peopling of a new world, abounding in opportunity. Canada's story since Confederation has been one of continuing growth in those vital areas of activity by which a young country moves toward maturity.
